

Stolen Oboes and Bassoons

This is our continuing list of known stolen oboes and bassoons. It is hoped that the listing of these instruments, along with particulars leading to their disappearance, might be of assistance in their eventual recovery and return to their original owners, as well as serving as a source for identifying suspected contraband instruments. If there is some way the Society can further discourage the theft of so vital a tool to the performing artist, further suggestions are encouraged from the readers.

Please add to (and hopefully, delete from) the list by writing to the oboe and bassoon editors. The list will be printed in all future issues of the publications. Please include as much information as you can pertinent to the instrument (distinguishing characteristics, special keywork, etc.) and to its theft (where, when, etc.).

  95. Stolen: Puchner Bassoon, Serial number 9822, stolen: August 9, 2001, while being returned from Germany to the US in the US postal system. Contact: Christopher D. FitzGerald, PO Box 260, Shady Cove OR, 97477. Tel: (1)541-878-2726 Email: Bsncdf59@hotmail.com Comments: By following my instructions that there was no need for a zip code, the bassoon never reached the Puchner firm and was sent back from Germany. (These were instructions given by the US postal Service to me.) Both parties cannot locate the instrument, the US postal service still says it has been delivered. It has not. No one seems to know where it is. It may have been in the customs office in the WTC, as I was told that is a possibility.
